This talk will show how to estimate almost anything, including such serious real-world questions as 'paper or plastic', how much landfill space we need for the next century, gasoline vs electric cars, and the total length of pickles consumed yearly in the US.

TIME: 4:00-4:50 pm, Thursday the 12th of February 2009

PLACE: 101 Corcoran Hall, GWU
725 21st Street, N.W. (Between G and H Streets)

METRO STATION: GWU/FOGGY BOTTOM (BLUE & ORANGE LINES)